

REV. FR. DANIEL FOSU

Rev. Fr. Daniel Fosu is a priest from Konongo-Mampong Diocese of Ghana in West Africa. He is from a large family of four sisters and four brothers among whom he is the last born.

He was ordained a priest on the 6th August, 2011. Since ordination has served in various parishes, committees, councils and chaplaincies in different capacities. He served as Assistant Co-Cathedral Administrator for one year and Assistant Grotto (Marian Sanctuary) Director for three years. He has been a pastor for four years in Juansa Parish and three years in Odumase parish.

Rev. Fr. Daniel served as chaplain for diocesan altar servers (Knights and Ladies of the Altar) for four years. He was the diocesan Women Council chaplain till he came here. He as well served as the Ghana National Praeses (Chaplain) for Adolph Kolping International Society until he came here.

Fr. Daniel was made the Vicar Forane for Konongo Vicariate and later became the Dean of the Vicar Foranes. He was also a member of the diocesan priest Council (priest senate) and a vice president of the Konongo-Mampong Diocesan Priests Association. He served also as a member of the diocesan parish creation committee.

Fr. Daniel Fosu is a professional teacher who holds a Postgraduate Diploma in Education (PGDE) from University of Cape Coast and has teaching license from the National Teaching Council, Ghana. He taught in basic school and senior high schools where he held various positions and served on several committees in the schools. His subject areas are social studies and religious education.

In terms of academic qualifications, Fr. Daniel holds two Bachelor of Arts degrees: Bachelor of Arts in Sociology and Religions from University of Ghana, Legon; and Bachelor of Arts in Theology from Pope Urban University, Rome. He has certificate in theological sciences from St. Peter's Regional Seminary, Cape Coast, Ghana.